

Council Discusses Square Use, Walk

Sunbury Council, at a busy meeting last week, granted Big Walnut Band Boosters use of the square for their annual Memorial Day Flea Market and Friends of the Library use of the square for the International Fair May 4-5. Library Director Rachel Edwards also requested the square for June 30 for the Arts and Crafts Festival.

Council member Donna Baranek noted that the June 30 date would be in conflict with a rule not yet passed by council which would require at least three weeks between each major event to allow the grass on the square to recover.

Baranek assumed the Chamber of Commerce would be asking for the square for the annual Fourth of July Flea Market, although Council has had no written request from the chamber. Baranek said she would talk with Edwards and hoped to have another date for the Arts and Crafts Festival by the next council meeting.

Council continued to worry about the sidewalks along Route 37 east from Cherry Street. Jeannette Curran noted that the sidewalks are falling down along the walkway.

Baranek suggested cutting into the hill to widen the sidewalk, raising the curb and putting a rail on the street side to protect walkers.

Clerk Becky Jo Hayes noted that an alternative might be to route pedestrians down Hill Street to Morning Street.

Baranek and Curran asked that property owners be notified if their section of the hill along the route needs work.

Fire hydrants also continued to concern council. Council member Clifford Cook told Board of Public Affairs chairman Kenneth Crowl he had heard water pipes were blown out in a basement in Foxboro when a dead-end fire line was tested.

Crowl acknowledged this happened and explained it could happen on any line if the water flow was stopped too abruptly.

Asked about liability, solicitor Peter Manos said there could be liability, but it would have to be looked at on a case by case basis.

Baranek questioned installation of dead-end hydrants saying they "foul up insurance rates."

Looped lines, she said, provide a better return out of the hydrant and are more likely to have better water flow and less rusty sediment.

"A dead-end hydrant is better than no hydrant at all," Crowl responded, noting "we have no hydrants in town that pump 1,000 gallons a minute."

Hayes reported the Environmental Protection Agency inspected the Greenwald property and felt there was nothing hazardous in the rubble left there since a fire several years ago.

"I think we can have it pushed up in a pile with a dozer and haul it away for $600-$800," Council member Bob Nichols said.

Nichols reported the BSAAG fire board's decision to re-bid the proposed new firehouse with individual subcontractors rather than a general contractor.

"We may put (Fire Chief) Bill Fling in charge of it," Nichols said.

"I hope they are not cheating themselves by being cheap or inexpensive," Manos commented. "They are trying to save the taxpayers money but they may not in the long run."

Council accepted Ernest White Ford's low bid of $11,729 for a new police cruiser for the village and George Byers and Sons Inc. low bid of $14,698 for a truck for the cemetery division of the street

BW Students Top County Science Fair

Big Walnut science students won the first and second place honors, as well as three of the seven superior ratings in the county with their science fair projects this year.

BW Wins Tops In Science Fair

Big Walnut students won the first and second places at the Delaware county Science Fair Mar. 4, and had three of the seven superior ratings given.

Todd Stockwell, a senior in Richard Phillips' class, won the first place trophy for the county with his project on steam power for agriculture.

Vanessa Bishop, a freshman in Mrs. Linda Martin's class, placed second with her project on music and its effects on studying.

Stockwell and Bishop, along with Allison Gilbert, also a freshman science student, won superior ratings, out of 54 entries in this year's fair, held at Buckeye Valley High School.

Stockwell's project on steam power for agriculture represents four years of effort, with Todd adding each year to the last year's efforts. Last spring, a local resident read of Todd's interest in steam engines, and gave him two engines and a boiler system for his studies.

Data taken from experiments with these engines and boiler have been added to his project, entitled: "Food and Fuel From Agriculture: Can Steam Power Resolve This Conflict?"

Stockwell is the son of Dean and Joyce Stockwell, 12332 Vans Valley Rd., Galena. Last year, he represented Central Ohio at the International Science and Engineering Fair, held in Columbus.

Vanessa's project is entitled "Effects of Music on Studying Efficiency." She is the daughter of Robert and Sandra Bishop, 373 Cottontail Dr., Sunbury.

Allison, daughter of Gary and Charlene Gilbert, Stone St., Sunbury, did her project on "Diabetes and Stress" earning her superior award.

These three plus four others who received excellent ratings in the county competition will be going on to Capital University Mar. 23 for the Central District Science Fair. And, the three, themselves, will be showing their projects in April at the Otterbein-Battelle Science Fair, a regional competition.

Winning excellent ratings at the county and preparing to show Mar. 23 at the district competition are Susan Akerman, a junior; Jason Lettice; and Kenny Sheets, freshmen; and Eric Geisler, a senior.

Other students winning excellent at the county fair were Alea Arora, Kris West, Robbie Barr, Julie Weekly, Andrea Herd, Sharon Mohler, Joe Sutton, James Rolles and Cheryl Smithberger.

Ratings of good were won by James Hill, Michelle Whitehead, Steve Moore, Rob Houser, Kim Groome and Kathleen Johnson.

Big Walnut had a total of 22 students showing their projects at the county fair, which was sponsored by the Delaware county Office of Education.

Money continues to be the main topic of conversation. Big Walnut Board of Education meetings.

Monday night, the board approved the 1985 appropriations measure, a 3-year contract with the district's teachers' association, and heard a financial report from the board treasurer.

The appropriations measure for 1985 totals $5,351,499 in the general fund. Of this amount, the district expects to receive $2,516,729 from the state foundation; $1,673,260 from real estate taxes; and the balance from other local and state sources.

The district will receive $600,000 of the general fund total from the sale of notes that will, in the next year, the board has hired the firm of Means, Bichimer, Burkholder and Baker to set anticipatory notes equal to 50 percent of the gross revenues generated from the passage of that levy.

Board president Jim Heine said the appropriations measure allows for no capital expenditure "at all" and only minimum maintenance.

The board approved a 3-year contract with the teachers that calls for maintaining the current teacher base salary of $13,100 for the rest of this year. If the state approves the new budget that Governor Celeste has requested, the district's base will be increased to $13,100, the minimum. Board members anticipate a new base of $11,700 as of July 1.

The next increase in the base will be Jan. 1, 1986, when it will be increased to $14,500. The new contract calls for the base to be $16,750, as of Jan. 1, 1987. Heine said that very little language was changed in the contract. He also remarked that both sides felt relief that "now we don't have to do this every year." Heine said the teachers approved the contract Monday afternoon.

Board member Bruce Denton commented that he felt very positive about the negotiations and said he felt both sides were well represented.

In her financial report, clerk treasurer Sue Beardsley told the board that they can expect to borrow from the bond retirement fund on Mar. 15. She said the loan would be around $130,000 to $140,000. She said the board would have to borrow from a commercial bank in May.

The district's acting superintendent, Smith Runyan, told the board the district has received around 22 completed applications for the position of superintendent. According to Heine, the board hopes to interview several candidates on Mar. 21.

The board approved a 3-year contract for Melissa Zarich, Souders principal, and for Gerald Hens, assistant high school principal, and a limited contract for Lata Stachowski, 4th grade Souders to complete the school year. She will replace Margaret McNaughton who has resigned and will move from the area.

The board set the treasurer's salary at $20,337, which reflects the same 4.5 percent increase in the teacher's base salary. Runyan told the board that Beardsley has held a treasurer's position longer than anyone else in Delaware county, but is the lowest paid.

He explained that Buckeye Valley pays $22,000. Orlamanga

Area Farmers Are Feeling Pressures, Too

by Jennie Kavage

Delaware county's farm economy is not the most depressed in the state and certainly not as depressed as those sections of the country that have made all the news in recent weeks. County extension agent Bob Irvin says.

However, farmers in eastern Delaware county are feeling the pressure that affects their counterparts across the nation. Local farmers have experienced two, three and even four years of weather-related problems combined with generally unfavorable economic conditions.

"I made more in three weeks working construction than I did in the last four years I farmed," Jim Thorpe of Porter Central Road states frankly.

Thorpe has been involved in agriculture all his life. His father, also Jim Thorpe, has a grain and dairy farm on Lane Road.

The younger Thorpe started farming in Porter Central in 1976, bought some land in 1977 and again in 1980. In February, 1984, he sold off his equipment and went to work for a construction firm.

Bad weather and resultant low crop yields, low grain prices, high interest rates and government imposed grain embargoes are some of the factors Thorpe blames for the drop in farm income.

"After three depressing years, you get pretty depressed," he comments. "I used to really look forward to farming, to going out in the morning and getting on my tractor, to going into town and talking to someone about farming. The last couple of years, I just hated to do it."

"You keep doing what you are supposed to do, you do extras, you sacrifice to do it and it doesn't pay off. You still owe money to somebody," Thorpe continues. "There's always an obstacle to overcome. You're always under pressure."

He wasn't depressed after the farm sale. He remembers what a load lifted from his shoulders when he paid off the Production Credit Association.

A few years ago Tom Brenner, east of Condit, was farming 800-1,000 acres with his son, Dan. Two years ago Dan sold out, and Tom is now farming only about 200 acres, trying to "keep my hand in, in case things change."

Low grain prices and high interest plus the grain embargo "really sank them," Brenner says of the area's young farmers.

He points out that a farmer has to make $6 a bushel on his soybeans and $3 a bushel on corn and have a good yield per acre to make a profit.

On Monday grain elevators in the Central Ohio area were paying $2.67 a bushel for corn and $3.74 for soybeans.

Brenner predicts a lot of farm land will be for rent this spring as farmers decide they can no longer afford to plant.

Robert Michels, who started farming on Carter's Corner Road in 1956 says the problem started with Earl Butz, secretary of agriculture under Richard Nixon.

"He wanted us to plant fence-row to fence-row, to plow up the pastures and feed the world. Now we are paying for it," Michels says.

Farmers who had diversified operations turned more and more to grain farming. They bought more land and bigger machinery.

"Foreign countries bought grain from the United States and the price climbed."

The government didn't want the U.S. consumer to have to pay too much for food, so they stopped it," Porter farmer Dane Scholl says.

"We had embargoes under Nixon, Ford and Carter. This destroyed the United States role as the world's most reliable supply of food," Scholl continues. "Now other areas, particularly Argentina and Brazil, are being developed by our past customers, such as Russia and Japan, to produce food."

Scholl, who farms 1,600 acres with his brother, Richard, thinks the "planners, either by ignorance or design, are pushing us in the direction of investor-owned farming."

"It's not a whole lot different than it was in the depression," Scholl says. "Whenever the economics people decide things hit bottom, then the people with capital step in and buy up assets at depression prices."

"Ability is not all the story," Scholl says. "Many excellent farmers have and are going broke. They are the more progressive farmers, who did what the government and universities told them to do. They used the technology and credit available and took on considerable debt."

"You can have a sound situation and in three bad years the equity you've built up will be gone," he continues.

As the United States has made inroads on its inflation problem, the U.S. dollar has gotten stronger overseas, making purchase of U.S. grain less attractive in a foreign market already weakened by embargoes.

"The agriculture sector is carrying the load of whipping inflation," Scholl says. "We can have farms in Trenton, Va. with his brother, Dave, states. "We could give the food away and it would be a subsidy."

He cites a Purdue University study that indicates two people working together with big machinery make the most efficient food production system.

If the current trend continues, these are the farmers, he sees, being crowded out. Farms will get larger and more inefficient.

"Suppose someone the size of General Motors or Columbus and Southern was responsible for feeding you," he notes. "You'd pay three or four times more for your food."

"Interest is our largest single cost," Miller notes. "It used to be we didn't worry about interest. Now it's eating us up."

"People who live in town have no idea of the amount of debt a farmer has to carry," Karen DeBolt says. "We can have 20-50 times as much interest as a person in the city. One-fifth of our gross income goes for interest."

Karen and Dave DeBolt have a dairy operation on Trenton Road and raise 1,000-1,200 acres of grain.

After four bad years, they, like the farmers around them are watching their equity drop. The dairy makes the payroll, but they wonder what will happen to that equity when the dairy P.K. program ends.

Like the DeBolts, Paul Elfrink's dairy is helping him keep going. He got out of the dairy business several years ago to concentrate on grain farming, but the bad years have forced him to start milking again.

He admits he has thought about getting out of farming but he "worked in a factory for three or four years and couldn't stand it."

A lot of the problem today, Elfrink believes, is over-production. He thinks the government should get its fingers out of agriculture and let the farmers who can't make it go out of business.

Bernard Dault, Carter's Corner Road, agrees that over-produc-

Daily Makes Old Do to Cut Corners

Kingston twp. farmer Bernard Daily tightens a head cover on a bulldozer as he and other area farmers cut corners, economize and hope the agriculture situation will improve.

Daily has rebuilt a nine-year-old combine that he might have replaced in better times, plans to work on his tractor and purchase a used truck from Concord twp. to turn into a farm truck.

Farmers in eastern Delaware county have experienced two, three and even four years of bad weather depending on where they live.

This, coupled with low prices, high costs, high interest rates, falling land prices and a hard foreign market, has driven young farmers out of business and has the older farmers worried.

Editorially Speaking . . .

COME ON, COUNCIL . . .

You didn't really ask the Community Library to move the date of the Arts and Crafts Festival did you?

And what is this about a rule requiring a three-week lag between major events on the square? Are we back to comparing the library's "major" festivals with the flea markets? We thought we already played that game.

And if you really want to be fair, don't you honor the first request for reserving the square? If so, the July 4th Flea Market should, in fairness, be the one to move, since no one has requested the square, right?

And how can you even think of attempting to direct activities with rules and regulations that are not yet approved?

Umm, do you think, maybe, you should think this out again? tdw

What Our Readers Say

TEACHER PRAISES OLYMPICS OF MIND COACHES' COMMITMENT

Dear Editor,
Big Walnut Elementary School is a very unique and special place. All throughout the United States, and even the world, teams of students have been meeting to compare ideas and solutions for Olympics of the Mind problems. In most schools only a select few actually are chosen to participate. However, in our school every child was given the opportunity to sign up. I witnessed how many students, even those who had difficulty with regular class work, got turned on to school because of their involvement in OM.

Another quality unique to our school is the large number of parents volunteering to coach and their dedication to the job. In speaking with coaches from other districts I've found that there's often a great drop-out rate in teams from the beginning until the actual competition date. I am proud to say that Big Walnut Elementary had 24 of the initial 25 teams participating in the final competition. This is due to the tremendous support of parents and coaches. In spite of schedule conflicts, illness, poor weather, and any number of other challenges, our coaches didn't give up and wouldn't let their teams give up. I'm convinced that the commitment our students learned was every bit as important as the problem-solving skills.

These Big Walnut Elementary OM coaches are to be commended for their leadership and commitment.

Big Brothers, Sisters Agency Closes Doors

Big Brothers-Big Sisters of Delaware County will be closing its doors Mar. 31. The BB-BS Board of Trustees voted Tuesday to dissolve the nonprofit corporation due to extreme financial hardship.

Board members, staff and volunteers have been searching the community the last two months for substantial donors. Estimated expenses for 1985 are $22,000. The agency has allocated $5,000 to BB-BS, leaving $17,000 to be raised by the board. The allocation was just enough to keep the agency operating while the board looked for additional funds.

"The decision to close was difficult. Fifteen new matches have been made since November, bringing our total to 12 Big Brother-Little Brother and 13 Big Sister-Little Sister matches. This is the agency's largest growth spurt since its inception in 1981," commented Executive Director March M. Flood.
The increase in match numbers has not brought an increase in funding. The 1985 United Way allocation of $5,000 is a two-thirds cut over last year's total funding of $15,000. BB-BS originally requested $15,244 for 1985 and upon United Way's request submitted a revised budget asking for $11,128. The cut is more than the agency can hope to absorb through fundraising efforts.
The friendships made by "Bigs" and "Littles" will be hard to break. BB-BS is designed to match children from single-parent homes with adult volunteers willing to help a child grow into adulthood. Volunteers provide companionship, understanding and interest to boys and girls between the ages of 7 and 14. All of the matches will be terminated as of Mar. 31. Whether or not the relationships continue will be a decision made by individual volunteers, the children's parents and the children. BB-BS will no longer be responsible. Parents and potential volunteers who have contacted the agency recently will be notified of its closing. "A match was scheduled to take place Mar. 8, and that is the last, States Flood. "We are no longer accepting applications for "Bigs" or "Littles." Our files will be sealed and sent to the National Association for Big Brothers-Big Sisters in Philadelphia, Pa. where they will be stored until another BB-BS agency is formed in Delaware county."

The remainder of March will be spent notifying people involved with BB-BS of its dissolution, completing the paperwork necessary to close the agency and planning an Appreciation Potluck Dinner. The dinner will be Tuesday, Mar. 26 from 6-8 p.m. in the Senior Citizen Activity Center at 38 South Franklin St., Delaware. All past and present "Bigs," "Littles," Board Members and individuals supporting BB-BS, and their families and spouses are invited. Those attending will be asked to bring a covered dish and table service and to notify the BB-BS office of their intent to attend. "There are several people in Delaware who helped to make the organization successful. This Appreciation Potluck is an opportunity for us to get together, recognize the accomplishments and say good-bye," says Flood. "Losing the agency is devastating. But we know the community cares about these youth. The need is here now, and hopefully the support will be found sometime in the future."

AREA FARMERS

tion is the main cause of agriculture's present bad times, but he is opposed to letting farm land fall to developers.

He suggests going back to the system of setting production quotas on each farm to lower production and raise prices.

"This would keep land in the hands of the farmer."

"We just can't let this land go and let houses be built on it," he says. "One of these days we are going to need the farm land."

Daily, who has 350 acres of tillable land, started in partnership with his father 31 years ago. He says he couldn't have kept going if he hadn't been driving a farmer, but he's had to be a full time job. He helps his son at night on weekends. Dad Jeff is a mechanic.

"He liked having a paycheck every week," Daily says. "This is not a time to expand." Daily comments. The last three years have not been good ones and he's refocused old equipment rather than buying new.

"I can't afford to pay all that interest," he says. "I've been driving hybrid poplars on his pasture land as another source of income."

County Agent Irvin doesn't see the agriculture situation turning around soon. The immediate problem for some farmers is based on whether or not they can get money to operate their year.

Delaware County Farm Bureau president Doug Dawson says that can mean borrowing $200,000 to plant a 1,000-acre farm.

He is in Washington this week with Farm Bureau representatives from across Ohio trying to convince government officials to keep agriculture's portion of the budget up to 1984 levels.

This would assure the continuation of some farm programs, which would give money lenders the confidence they need to lend money to farmers for spring planting.

Sunbury Crews To Spring Clean Cemetery Apr. 1

Sunbury Street and Cemetery Department will be cleaning Sunbury Memorial Park Cemetery April 1, says superintendent Bob Corwin.

Corwin says that the winter weeds, grass, and plastic flowers and old containers should be removed now if someone wants to save them; otherwise, the crews will remove them.

Council advised following an executive session to reaffirm its interest in remodeling the basement of the municipal building for the police department.

"I'd like to see you proceed," Baranek said, "but I haven't seen anything on paper yet."

—Fun Fest - Big Walnut Elementary School's Fun Fest is this Saturday, Mar. 16, at the school from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. New to this year's Fun Fest is a Cabbage Patch raffle. Tickets for the raffle and also for games will be sold at the school on Thursday and Friday mornings. (See ad in today's News.)

—Bunny Boutique - Come hop to the Bunny Boutique Craft and Flea Market

Show this Saturday, Mar. 16, at Hayes High School in Delaware. Hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The Easter Bunny will be waiting to have a picture taken with you. Proceeds go to the Delaware Hayes Mission Boosters. (See ad in today's News.)

—Clothing Sale - Friendly Club of Condit Presbyterian Church is sponsoring a clothing sale this Saturday, Mar. 16, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the church. A light lunch will be available plus a bake sale. You can shop for clothing, quilt and rug pieces, plus buttons. Everything is priced at 40¢ per pound, and you choose the items you want to buy. (See ad on classified page.)

—Buzzard Day - Will the buzzards (turkey vultures) return to Hinkley Ridge tomorrow, Mar. 15? The town is having a big Buzzard Day celebration on Sunday, Mar. 17, from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the elementary school.

—St. Patrick's Day - Of course, St. Patrick's Day is Sunday. There will be a parade in downtown Columbus around 2 p.m. and festivities at the Ohio Center beginning at 2:30 p.m. Celebrate St. Patrick's Day closer to home at J & J Hitching Post on Rt. 36 & 37 near Delaware. Gary Sullivan will entertain Saturday, Mar. 16. Hours are 9:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. (See ad.)

—Lulu's Birthday - Tuesday, Mar. 19, is Lulu Eley's 80th birthday. May you have a happy one, Mrs. Eley.

—Spring Arriving - It must be spring. There are several yard and garage sales advertised in this week's News. According to the calendar, the first day of spring for 1985 is next Wednesday, Mar. 20.

—Daffodil Days - Daffodil Days, sponsored by the Cancer Society, will be Mar. 22 and 23 in Sunbury, reports Helen Chitt. The News hopes to have more on this next week.

—Receives Gold Star - Emma Fetherolf of Lewis Center Rd. was presented a gold star by a U. S. Government official on Friday, Mar. 8, at a special presentation in Columbus. She applied for the gold star over a year ago. Her husband, PFC Lee R. Fetherolf, was killed in France on Aug. 11, 1944.

—More Winners - Congratulations are in order for Vanessa Bishop and Allison Gilbert for receiving superior ratings on their science projects exhibited at the recent Delaware county Science Fair. Last week at this time I did not know they were Big Walnut students. Both girls are freshmen, and Vanessa also received a trophy for second place. Good luck at the District Science Fair on Mar. 23.

Up Marengo Area Way
by Mary E. McCurdy
Here it is another week and starting with rain. At least we don't hear that we are going to have snow. On March 1 when I was in Cardington, I saw two robins and while in Newark Sunday we saw several robins gathering things for a nest, so spring is just around the corner, of course, we still can have bad weather.
Marlene and Kenny Belcher and family spent Sunday with Sissy Lewis and Ellis. They went to the Centerburg funeral home to be with the family and friends of their Uncle, Paul Belcher. Other visitors of Sissy's were Rick and Barb Moore and family, Hubert and Lena Moore, Dave and Vickie Merriman and family and Wilma and Lennie Zornes.
Mary E. McCurdy and Juanita Witt visited my sister and aunt, Thelma Hardy and family on Sunday afternoon. They went to the Licking Memorial Hospital in Newark to see Gilbert LaRue. He was feeling better. While there we talked to our nieces and nephews, Tom and Nora Seymour, and Cindy Richelie rder. We stopped and saw our cousin, Ethel Hancock, at the LPS Nursing home. She knew us and then she didn't. She will be 97 or 98 this month. When we came through Johnstown we stopped to see our sister and aunt, Pauline LaRue and Ed McClary. All in all, we had a real nice and enjoyable day.
Want to congratulate my cousin, Mary Ann Bush, daughter of William and Jean (Daniels) Bush, and Ron Ninninger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Ninninger, who will be married at an open church wedding at the Fargo Wesleyan Church, on Mar. 16. She is the daughter of Rose (Ford) and Leonard Daniels of Perryburg. She is the cousin of Harold and Barb Adams who attends Fargo church. Also the cousin of the other Adams children and the Houcks.
Have a nice day and God bless you.

Mental Health Program Will Help State Employees

Officials from the Central Ohio Mental Health Center in Delaware and the Ohio Employee Assistance Program in Columbus signed a contract on Feb. 22 that will provide county and state employees confidential help with health or personal problems which affect job performance.

Participating in the signing ceremony were John L. Tewart, ACSW, Executive Director of the Ohio Employee Assistance Program (Ohio EAP), Robert Taisy, Vice President, Board of Directors of Central Ohio Mental Health Center, Jack Kirby, Administrative Assistant, Ohio Department of Transportation, Delaware Headquarters, Joan Lawrence, Representative, 5th District, Ohio House of Representatives; Mary Sears, representing AFSCME-OCSEA; and Robert Gaffey, Coordinator of Consultation and Education for the Central Ohio Mental Health Center.

This was the 20th such signing of 30 community service centers that provide assessment for state employees for a wide range of personal troubles, including stress, depression, financial difficulties and the abuse of alcohol and other drugs, and family crisis.

The state employees who are employed or reside in Delaware and Morrow counties can now take advantage of an Employee Assistance Program being delivered by the Central Ohio Mental Health Center with offices in Delaware, Sunbury and Mt. Gilead. This program will assess and help work through the mental health problems, and will help the state in improving its employees' job performance. Problems of a behavioral-emotional nature will receive the same consideration and opportunity for treatment that are currently extended to employees having other illnesses. While services have been available and have been covered by employees' insurance plans for some time now, Weinberg, Executive Director of the Ohio Employee Assistance Program, emphasized that now the state is employing "a kind of outreach program, to make employees aware that there are services available." The plan designates the Center as a Community Services Center, he says.

The center's office in Sunbury moves to a new location as of March 13, 328 E. Granville Road and can be reached by phone at (614) 965-2664.

Galena Resident Helps Set Up Chorister Fest

Sunny Murtha, 5460 Red Bank Rd., Galena, is this year's Festival Coordinator for the Central Ohio Chapter of Choristers Guild's upcoming Junior Choir Festival and Workshop.

The workshop will be held Mar. 16 with the Festival Performance on Mar. 17 at the Broad St. Presbyterian Church in Columbus.

Saturday's workshop will include a demonstration choir of 26 voices and a lecture on choral techniques. Sunday's performance will be held at 4 p.m., with offerings being donated to the Choristers Guild Endowment Fund in Dallas.

Murtha is a board member of the National Choristers' Guild in Dallas.

Ah, St. Patrick's Day! Even the mere thought makes one think of leprechauns, shamrocks, the favorite song "When Irish Eyes are Smiling" and the wear in of the green on this special day.

We are fortunate to have Mrs. Dale Raming sharing with us this week. A former Galena resident, and now of Lake Saint Louis, Mo., her experiences certainly sound interesting, and so timely, too.

Mrs. Raming writes: Our St. Charles County, just across the Missouri River west of St. Louis, has a very active University of Missouri Extension program. There are over 600 women in the county homemaker groups... about 46 clubs. This year we have been studying Ireland and many of our programs have been Irish-related. The following recipes are just two of twelve recipes from Ireland that we were taught at an Irish Cookery Class and served. Then we all did the cooking and serving in our individual clubs.

My hubby "Chuck" says that "Haggerty" is his absolute favorite way to eat potatoes.

Haggerty
Cut 3 medium potatoes into paper thin slices and pat dry in a towel. Slice one onion very thin.

Heat: 1 Tbsp. bacon fat in a teflon fry pan.

Fill the fry pan with alternate layers of potatoes, onions and grated cheddar cheese (about 3/4 cup).

Salt and pepper each layer as they are placed in the pan. Finish with potatoes. Dot the top layer of potatoes with a second Tbsp. bacon dripping.

Cook over moderate heat until potatoes are almost tender and browned on bottom. Turn the haggerty carefully onto a platter. Slip it top side down back into the skillet. Continue cooking until done. Should have a crispy, browned top and bottom. Cut in wedges for serving. Serves 4.

BOXTY-ON-THE-PAN
Prepare: 1 cup mashed potatoes.

Grate: 1 cup raw potatoes and

Sharing 'A Bit of the Irish' in Recipes

squeeze them through a cloth to remove all the moisture possible.

Sift: 1 cup all-purpose flour with: 2 tsp. baking powder and 2 tsp. salt.

Mix potatoes and dry ingredients with 2 beaten eggs and a cup milk (about 1 1/2 cups) to make a dropping batter.

Drop batter by tablespoons into hot buttered frying pan. Cook over moderate heat about 4 minutes a side. Serve hot and well

Need a dessert? Let's try:

Chocolate Potato Cake
1/2 lb. butter
2 cups sugar
4 eggs, beaten
2 oz. unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 cup cold mashed potatoes
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
2 c. sifted flour
1 tsp. baking soda
1 c. sour milk
1 c. coarsely chopped nuts

Cream the butter. Add the sugar gradually, beating until light and fluffy. Add the eggs and beat well. Add the chocolate, battered with or without sugar. Makes 6 servings. (A little sprinkling of sugar makes these like a dessert. We used maple syrup also and liked that!)

Many thanks, Mrs. Raming, for taking the time to share with us!

Discovering Irish Recipes
After starting my search for Irish recipes, I found more than we can possibly use. And they all sound so good.

The Irish are famous for home baked soda bread and potato bread. Both are flavorful and unusual. Less well known but just as good is 'Broonie,' an Irish gingerbread. Broonie is full of oats, chewy and dark in color. Try it soon!

Broonie
2 c. flour
1 1/2 tsp. soda
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. ginger
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup soft butter
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg
2 egg yolks
1 cup molasses
1/2 cup quick cooking oatmeal
1 cup hot water

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Sift together flour, spices and salt. Set aside.

In mixing bowl, combine softened butter and sugar, mix till well blended. Add egg and egg yolks, beat until light and fluffy. Stir in molasses.

Add the sifted dry ingredients, oatmeal and hot water one fourth at a time to the egg-molasses mixture, stirring well after each addition.

Pour mixture into greased 8-inch square baking pan. Bake 30 to 35 minutes, or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cut into squares and serve warm.

This recipe is an authentic one for Irish Stew. In certain localities, celery, carrots and tomatoes are added in additional layers.

Irish Stew
6 large potatoes, peeled and cut into 1 1/2" cubes

The meeting will be held on a Friday instead of the regular Saturday date. The business meeting will begin at noon with a luncheon at 12:30.

FOR YOUR OWN SAFETY,

GET NOSEY.

Fortunately, natural gas leaks are rare, but they can happen. So it's important that you and your family be able to recognize telltale signs.

The most obvious sign is the smell. Natural gas by itself is odorless, so we add a distinctive odor to the gas. Other signs to be alert for outside include a hissing noise, blowing dirt, bubbling water over a submerged pipe, or dying vegetation around service lines.

If you smell gas in your home, 1) check to see if a pilot light is out, or a burner control valve not turned completely off; 2) open doors and windows; 3) don't use matches, electric switches or appliances.

If the odor is strong, leave the house, call Columbia from nearby and stay there until a representative arrives.

If you detect a leak outside, 1) eliminate if possible potential sources of a spark or flame; 2) leave the area; 3) call Columbia from nearby.

If you or someone in your family isn't familiar with the smell of gas, call your Columbia office and ask for a scented folder. Together, we can keep your natural gas service safe and efficient.

Schultz Succeeds Souders as Job Training Leader

Robert F. Schultz will assume the management of the Delaware county job training program as of Monday, Mar. 4.

Announcement of the appointment was made by Gregory Wince, Chief Executive Officer for the Central Ohio Rural Consortium (CORTC), during the Feb. 20 meeting of the Delaware county Private Industry Council (PIC) planning committee.

As Delaware county job training manager, Schultz will work closely with the Delaware PIC as this group plans programs and activities funded by the Job Training Partnership Act. Additionally, he will supervise the Delaware job training staff and program operations while taking an active role in developing job opportunities with local employers for program trainees.

Schultz is former Superintendent of the Delaware County Schools and holds a Master Degree in administration and supervision. Since leaving the Delaware City Schools, he has been employed as a probation counselor with the office of Judge Thomas E. Loudon. He and wife, Mary Louise, reside at 129 Griswold Street, Delaware. They have four children. LaDonna (Dillingen), Robert, Sharon (Larson), and David, all of whom are professionals in the education field.

Schultz succeeds Mr. Hylen Souders who will retire Mar. 8 after seven years as Delaware county job training manager.

Easter Bunny To Visit Westerville YWCA

Easter Bunny will be visiting the Westerville YWCA March 25-30 from 10:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m. each day. Bunny Hutch Chair, Barbara Hardy, helps the Lettuce Patch Doll and the Easter Bunny get ready for the Westerville YWCA Bunny Hutch.

The YWCA Building, a city owned house located at 396 West Main Street, Westerville, is being converted into a "Bunny Hutch" for the Easter Bunny's visit. The porch will become an Easter Basket, the garage a baby animal zoo and the various rooms of the house will contain special Easter treats and projects. Dancing daisies will greet each child and take them through the Bunny Hutch while parents can rest quietly in the "grown ups" room.

Clowns, cartoon characters, baby animal zoo, Easter egg hunts, games and crafts await the children who come to the Bunny Hutch. The Easter Bunny will visit with each child and photographs will be available. A small admission will be charged. Groups of five or more are asked to call for reservations. For more information, call the Westerville YWCA, 882-6846.

La Leche League Will Meet Thursday

Westerville-Sunbury La Leche League, for mothers who wish to breastfeed their babies, will meet Thursday, Mar. 21 at 9:30 a.m. at 216 Huber Village Blvd., Westerville.

Nursing babies are welcome. The league offers mother-to-mother help in a series of four monthly meetings. Discussions include the latest medical research, as well as personal experience. Other services include a lending library of books on childbirth, child care and breastfeeding. For further information, call Mary Jane Carr, 965-1332, or Linda Kretschmaier, 890-6299.

Big Walnut Joins County TI Workshop

Big Walnut Teenage Institute for the Prevention of Alcohol and Other Drug Abuse (TI) joined with Delaware Hayes and Buckeye Valley for the first county TI workshop last Friday, Mar. 1.

This workshop was designed to help prepare TI members as they work with elementary, intermediate and high school students. Programs were presented to them on chemical abuse, alcohol as a disease concept, coping with loss, teenage pregnancy, and alternative highs.

They were informed that the alcohol addiction process takes 10 to 15 years to take place in an adult and only one year for a teenager.

The program also stressed that 90 to 95 percent of pregnancies occur when the girl has been using alcohol and/or other chemicals at the moment of conception.

There were 30 students from the county trained at the workshop. Those from Big Walnut were: Barbara Bracken, Robin Coverdale, P. J. Dixon, Steve Glenn, Andrea Hird, Rob Houser, Kathleen Johnson, Amy Logan, Audra Manny, Janice

Rhodes, and Kris West. There were 10 students from the county who served as staff who had already been trained at the Regional or State TI Institute.

The students from Big Walnut were: Julie Hoyt, Kelly Kiggins, Heidi McDannald, Melody Moore, Holly Stimmel and Steve Sigman.

The adult staff included Shirley Addison, Hayes High School Guidance Counselor; Kathy Brebeney, Delaware Council on Alcoholism; Marsha Kiggins; and Maxine Stimmel, Big Walnut TI Advisor.

McDonald's, Sunbury IGA and Nestle donated food for the workshop. Pizza Hut in Delaware provided the evening meal.

Senior Citizens Nutrition Program

Monday: Johnny Marzetti with cheese, garlic bread, Italian gr. beans, pear halves.
Tuesday: Turkey with dressing and gravy, candied sw. potato, buttered peas, carrot cake, bread & butter.

Wednesday: Bf. stew with biscuit, spiced apples, cole slaw, cherry pudding.
Thursday: Ham loaf, scalloped potatoes, gr. beans, apple crumb cake, bread & butter.

Friday: Braided perch fillet with tartar sauce, hash browned potatoes, mixed vegetables, citrus fruit cup, bread & butter.

WALBERRY EARN'S STATE MAT BERTH

by Steve Kesler

Big Walnut will have its young-est ever participant when the state high school wrestling championships open this afternoon in Columbus.

Gary Walberry, a sophomore, becomes the third Eagle wrestler to compete in the time-hour event at St. John Arena on the Ohio State University campus. Dave Gibson (unlimited) and Wayne Schmidt (185) both seniors at the time, were earlier qualifiers.

Walberry is in the Class AA 96-pound weight class and will be one of the first wrestlers to hit the mats at 4:00 p.m. as he faces Clarence Gash of Hillsboro (18-9). There will be five sessions, including quarter finals and semifinals on Friday and consolation and finals on Saturday.

According to his coaches, Gary was outstanding as he placed second in the double-A regionals last weekend at Fostoria High School. Heading into the state, Gary is 26-7 with championships at Granville, West Jefferson (where he was also Most Valuable) and North Union. He was also third in the Central Buckeye League and fourth in the District at DeSales High School.

Gary won his first three matches against higher ranked foes. He defeated district champ Bruce Wilhelm of Lima, 15-10; second seed Kyle Swigard of Upper Sandusky, 8-3 in overtime and Tim Hornyak of Genoa, 9-6. Wilhelm (20-2) and Swigard (12-4) are both seniors, while Hornyak (16-2) is a junior.

"Gary just did a great job all weekend; he was simply awesome," remarked assistant coach Dick Geisler. "Other coaches came up and were commenting on how well Gary was doing."

In the regional finals, Gary battled Mark Tinney of Rossford, who came in with a 27-2 record. Walberry lost 4-2, but Geisler said "that it could have gone either way."

One item to note is Gary is the only representative in the Class AA 96-pound division to come from the Central District. He has been working out the past few weeks at Kentland, and with his friends, Joey Bonaventura of Grandview and Jeff Moats of Circleville.

"We are all very proud of Gary and pleased with his success," says head coach Mark Matthews. "We wish him the best at the state."

A very dedicated wrestler all season," he adds. "His efforts have taught and motivated many of the other wrestlers."

District Results
Walberry pinned Gary Strickland of Hillsdale; defeated John Penix of River Valley 39-0 and beat Dave McEate of Oentangy 25-7. He lost to Kevin Kruse of Ready 5-4 and Greg Manger of West Jefferson 8-7.

Mike Feazel (8-7): fifth, beat Mike Maynard of Pleasant 5-3; John Groseclose of Academy 6-4. Lost to Mark Vopie (DeSales) by pin and Doug Oberlin (Marysville) by pin.

Eric Geisler (22-4): sixth, beat John Stegeman (Pleasant) 10-2; Joe Jones (Marysville) 4-3. Lost to Pete Gentile (DeSales) by pin; Dave Branstetter (River Valley) 8-4 and Bryan Shoemaker (London) by pin.

John Dawson (18-7): sixth, beat Brad Milner (North Union) by default. Lost to Eric DiSabato (DeSales) by pin; Rob Carkaden (Pleasant) by pin and Brian Hempstead (River Valley) by pin.

Jed Arrington (13-10): sixth, beat Bart Pappart (River Valley) by default; Robert Young (NU) by pin. Lost to Roger Amburgey (Ready) by pin; Sonny Green (Marysville) by pin and Eric Holman (Pleasant) 11-0.

Final records for varsity members include Toby Ambrose (2-0); Ron Millsap (10-8); Tim Stambaugh (5-16); Steve Sigman (3-16); Chris Roddy (3-10); Steve Glenn (9-15); Brad Dean (0-15); Don Collier (9-12); John Waldo (5-18).

For reserves, Randy Jones was 4-6; Robin Owens (8-4); Rob Barr Evener (5-8); Larry Slater (7-11); Nathan Norris (0-7) and Jon Boyd (1-5).

In closing, Matthews praised the effort of senior captain Geisler. "He has had a tremendous showing and has been an excellent leader and motivator."

Ice Cold Shooting Ends Girls Tournament Hopes

by Steve Kesler

Big Walnut's girls basketball team deserved a better fate in the opening round of the Class AA District tournament.

Chilly field shooting combined with NO free throw attempts in the second half set the stage for a 36-33 loss to Hartley at Gahanna High School on Wednesday, Mar. 6.

Eagles of Coach Dean Duffey finished with a 15-6 overall state after finishing second in the Central Buckeye League race at 11-5 and winning their fifth sectional title. Hartley, meanwhile, is currently 19-4 after defeating previously unbeaten River Valley last Saturday.

"I thought we played well enough to win," stated Duffey after the contest. "The girls just played a real good game."

For the large and vocal BW crowd in attendance, their time to cheer took a while as Hartley jumped out to a 4-0 lead. Free throws by Caroline Batory and Cecilia Pierce along with a 15-footer from Vickie Schmitz provided the cushion.

Big Walnut, showing the off-the-mark shooting mentioned before, finally got on the scoreboard with 1:28 to go when Kelly Slone drilled a 13-footer. Becky Chapman tied the game at 4-4 with 50 on a jumper from seven feet.

After each team exchanged baskets, the Eagles got the upper hand. Kelly Vaughn rebounded a Wendy Spurrier shot back up with five seconds to give her team a one-point edge.

Hartley grabbed the lead back in the second quarter on a Megan Flanagan short banker and stretched it out to as much as five points. Despite several misses, BW fought back to within one and gained control again on Spurrier's rebound with two seconds.

In the first half, Big Walnut was a horrid 6-23 from the floor for 26 percent. In looking at the shot chart, they missed a total of 15 tries from 15 feet or less.

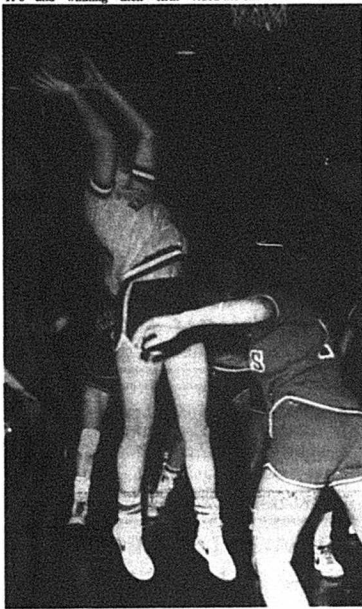

The Eagles came out in the third quarter and looked like they might run away from the Hawks. Slone hit two of her 10 second half points here as BW owned a 17-12 margin with 6:55 to go.

Hartley took advantage of the Eagles continuing shooting woes as they tied the score at 17-17 on Flanagan's two-shot free throw. Vaughn and Chapman gave BW the lead on two more occasions after ties until the Hawks took a three-point spread at the break.

Big Walnut came back to take a 25-24 lead on baskets from Spurrier, one with 6:34 and the other at 5:30 in the fourth. Hartley went out to three points several times before the Eagles were up 33-32 on a Spurrier 10-foot bank with 1:42.

The Hawks would take the last

GIRLS BASKETBALL

lead 12 seconds later as Flanagan swished in both ends of a two-shot freebie, making the count 34-33. After forcing a turnover and then winning the tip on a jump ball, Hartley called a timeout.

The Central Catholic League members then spread the floor and Schmitz threw up a leaping short bank with 44 left. Things looked pretty grim when BW threw the ball out of bounds against the Hartley press with 20.

After receiving the ball on a Hawk miss, the Eagles moved upcourt and were able to get three shots at the rim. Sione's 10-footer bounced off with Spurrier missing another opportunity and Vaughn unable to hit a third try.

BW was forced to foul after

Hartley came down with the rebound. Pierce missed the one-shot situation with three seconds. Speaking of free throws, Big Walnut did not step to the charity stripe the entire second half as Hartley, who was pressing the entire time, was called for only three fouls. BW was 13 for 33 percent and the Hawks 12-23 for 32.1. The Eagles were charged with 16 fouls and Hartley 9.

Sione finished as the leading scorer in the game with 14 points, the top rebounder with 15 and swiped the ball five times. Spurrier came in with 8 points. Chapman had 5, Vaughn 4 and Susie Churchill 2.

BW dominated rebounds 40-24 as Spurrier backed up Sione with 10 boards. Chapman pulled down 9; Vaughn collected 4 and Churchill grabbed 2. The Eagles had 21 turnovers to the Hawks 19.

In field shooting, Big Walnut was 16-51 for 31.3 percent with a 10-21 (35.7) effort in the second half. They missed 12 shots from 10 feet; Hartley was 11-46 for an even colder 23.9 percent.

"For those purists that like defensive struggles, it was a good game," Duffey added. "If we had a break here or a call there, we might have won."

Duffey further noted "that during the latter part of the season, the girls started playing championship quality basketball. I've really enjoyed working with them."

Mental Health Talks Budget

Delaware-Morrow county Community Mental Health Board held the regular monthly meeting on Thursday, Mar. 7 at the Morrow County Mental Health Center.

Chairman Louise White announced that the Executive Committee of the board will meet with officers of contract agencies, including Central Ohio Mental Health Center, Help Anonymous and Hope Line on Mar. 12 at 7 p.m. at the Way House. The group will informally discuss matters of general concern to the mental health system in the two-county area.

In reporting on legislative affairs, committee chairman Katherine Garrity presented a report from the Mental Health Budget Coalition of Ohio. This coalition is made up of the Ohio Association of Community Mental Health Agencies, Association of Ohio Substance Abuse Programs, Ohio Family Coalition for the Mentally III, state hospital superintendents, Citizen Advisory Boards of state hospitals, and several other groups interested in mental health issues. According to Garrity, the coalition says that the governor's budget proposal provides improved funding for community-based services for the severely mentally disabled; however, the level of funding for general community mental health services does not keep pace with inflation.

The coalition also asks that a sufficient tax structure is maintained in Ohio to assure adequate levels of funding for mental health. The Legislative Committee plans to keep board members informed about the budget process and noted that Mar. 19 the Coalition will meet with legislators in Columbus to share views regarding mental health funding.

Locally, approximately 35 per cent of funding to mental health programs is derived from state monies budgeted for community mental health. The importance of the state funding was emphasized to the members, along with the need for communication of that importance to local representatives.

In other business, the Hope Line annual meeting on Mar. 23 was announced, to which Board members are invited.

The next regular meeting will be held Apr. 4 in Delaware county.

United Phone Pays Property Tax to County

Richard Reeder, Mt. Vernon District Commercial Manager for United Telephone Company of Ohio, announces that the company's property tax bill for 1984 in Delaware county would total $127,009.42.

Reeder made the announcement after delivering a check covering half payment of the 1984 ad valorem ("According to the value") taxes to county Treasurer Madge L. Conklin. "Our company's total property tax bill was approximately $15.0 million in 1984," Reeder said. United of Ohio serves over 400,000 customers in 52 Ohio counties.

Banquet Honors FFA Accomplishments

by Sandy Boggs & Todd Stockwell

Spring arrived at the Big Walnut High School on Saturday, Mar. 9, when the annual Big Walnut chapter of the Future Farmers of America (FFA) Parent and Member Banquet took place. Daffodils, tulips, azaleas, rhododendrons, etc. were in full bloom making a beautiful setting in the gym for the banquet. Raccoon, fox, deer, mink, and even a black bear could be seen among the flowers and trees.

This year's banquet theme was "Keep Agriculture Number One."

Opening remarks for the 34th annual BW FFA banquet were made by President Todd Stockwell. The invocation was delivered by Vice President Bill Bien.

Following dinner, the drawing for door prizes was held. Gifts were provided by area businesses.

Top Hat and Tails, a musical group of which Miss Lawless, BWHS music teacher, is a member, entertained the FFA members and guests.

The welcome was given by Dave Wilson, a freshman member. His mother, Sandi Wilson, gave the response.

Special guests present were Smugh Runyan, Delaware County Superintendent; E. J. Miller, president of the Delaware County Board of Education; and other board members, Louis Huffman and Cathy Ellis; Jerry Rensi, Assistant Principal of BWHS; Bob Hovis from the State Department of Agricultural Education; last year's State Sentinel, Lisa Pond; State FFA Reporter, Luann Reed, of Cardington; Bob Irvin of the Delaware County Extension office; Bob and Rob Hilburn of Hilburn Sunbury Mill, Inc.; Greg Roy of the Galena branch of The Delaware County Bank; Jim Hildreth of The Delaware County Mutual Insurance Co.; Brad Moffitt, advisor to Ridgedale FFA Chapter, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gratz of Bluffton.

Greetings from the Ohio FFA Association were given by Big Walnut's Bill Bien, who is the North Central Sectional Vice President.

Kevin Wendt of Kenton, the former North Central Vice President of the Ohio FFA Assoc., was the guest speaker.

Certificates of Appreciation were presented to the following for their support of the local chapter: John Belli, recognized for his support and leadership in working with FFA Alumni; Forrest and Glenn Hale of Double H Farms, Paul and Kay Miller and Mike Murphy for helping with the chapter farming; Jerry Rensi for his help to the chapter in his position as assistant principal; Brad Moffitt, vo-ag teacher at Ridgedale, for providing transportation; and Charlie Hale for assisting with the students attending the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Mo. Others receiving certificates were: Dorothy Barcus, Mark Dailly, Larry Lokai, Charles Workman, Pete Long, Pam Ott, Carolyn Roach, and Anna Edwards.

This year's Outstanding Service Award was presented to Forrest Hale. This honor was bestowed upon Hale for the help he has given the Big Walnut FFA Chapter by donating his time and farm equipment to the chapter's farming program.

Those named as Honorary Chapter Members were: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Murphy, Bob Hilburn, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Stockwell and Mr. and Mrs. John Bien.

The Richard Murphys, owners of Murphand Farms, have supported the BW FFA in several ways, especially with the chapter farming program. Their son, Mike, was an active member and currently their son, Pat, is enrolled in vo-ag at Big Walnut.

Bob Hilburn of Hilburn Sunbury Mill, Inc. was recognized for donating seed, time and knowledge to make the chapter farm profitable.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Stockwell received the honor for serving on the Advisory Committee, working with the PRIDE report, showing a general concern for the BW FFA program, and providing support to their son, Todd. Mr. and Mrs. John Bien were recognized for their support of the chapter throughout the years of their children's enrollment. Their son, Bill, is Big Walnut's sixth State FFA officer.

Outstanding Notebook awards, sponsored by The Sunbury News, were presented to: Todd Stockwell, senior; Joe Belli, junior; Matt Hoover, sophomore; and Gary Bland, freshman.

Outstanding Record Book awards, sponsored by The Delaware County Mutual Insurance Company, were given to: Todd Stockwell, senior; Jennie Hildreth, junior; Mary Hale, sophomore; and David Wilson, freshman.

Scholarship pins donated by the BW FFA and plaques provided by The Delaware County Mutual Insurance Co. were awarded to the following FFA members who had the highest grades in their class: Todd Stockwell, senior; Mark Vair, junior; Matt Hoover, sophomore; and Chris Fountain, freshman.

The Tom Schmidt Memorial BOWC award was presented to the FFA member who donated the most hours and effort towards bettering the beauty of the community. The recipient was Bill Bien, who contributed over 200 hours in upkeep to the chapter's ecology center. Bill also received the Jerry DeWitt Memorial Safety award for exhibiting the most in promoting safety programs to the chapter.

Mary Hale won the first place 1984 Fruit Sales award. Jennie Hildreth received second and Sandy Boggs, third. These awards were sponsored by Steve and Sandi Wilson.

Placing fourth in Creed Speaking in the district with a silver rating was Brian Miller. His pin was sponsored by Green Blade Lawn and Garden Equipment. In the Beginning Prepared contest, Mary Hale placed second in the district. She received a gold rating. Mary's plaque and pin were sponsored by Kenney True Value Hardware. In the Extensive division Bill Bien placed first and received a gold rating. He received a plaque and pin, sponsors being Hayes Refrigeration Co.

Proficiency awards were presented to the following: Todd Stockwell received the Accounting award for demonstrating excellence in his record books over the past four years. Glenn Evans Insurance Co. sponsored the award. Todd also was the recipient of the Ag. Mechanics award, sponsored by Bernard Daily's Agri-Vation Acres and Ken Buell.

The District Beef Production award went to Dan Hale along with the Cereal Grain award of which Dan is one of the top three finalists in the state. Dan also received the Diversified Crop and Feed Grain awards. The FFA Foundation sponsored these awards.

Local Beef Proficiency award went to Jennie Hildreth. This award was provided by Double H Farms (Forrest and Glenn Hale). Jennie was also awarded this year's Pioneer Corn award. She had a yield of over 110 bushels per acre.

Mary Hale received the Crop Local award. It was sponsored by Bernard Daily's Agri-Vation Acres and Ken Buell.

Bill Bien received the Forestry award sponsored by Larry DeWitt. Bill works at the DeWitt Sawmill. DeWitt also sponsored the Wildlife award presented to Bien. Bill planted over 50 lbs. of seed for wildlife feed in the chapter's ecology center. Paul's Marine provided the Outdoor Recreation award which also went to Bien. Bill spent 200 hours in the ecology center improving overall maintenance of the facilities.

Placement in Production was awarded to Adam Roof. He has worked nearly 5,000 hours on his grandfather's dairy farm. Adam's award was sponsored by Walnut View Farm (Bill and Dick Fisher).

Greg Hubbard received the Home Improvement award for putting in nearly 1,000 hours towards improving the site of his home and farm over his four years as an FFA member at Big Walnut. Murphy Siding Co. provided the award. Hubbard also received the Poultry award provided by Fracasso's Village Pizza.

Charlie Hale sponsored the Sheep Production award given to Andy Johnson.

The Sales and Service award went to Todd Stockwell, whose specialty is working with antique farm tractors and machinery. Hilburn Sunbury Mill, Inc. made this award possible.

The queen candidates, Jennie Hildreth and Tammy Smith, and the court made up of Kelly Compton, Michelle Cook and Mary Hale, and their escorts were introduced. The 1985-86 queen is Jennie Hildreth. All the girls were presented with red roses from Flowers by Davids Square. (David Hale, an owner, was very active in the BW FFA.)

Following the queen ceremonies, the slide show, "The Year in Review," was narrated by Bill Bien and Todd Stockwell. Big Walnut FFA and FFA Alumni each provided $200 scholarships to the two top sophomores to attend the Washington Conference Program. Winners are Sandy Boggs and Mary Hale. Named as Outstanding FFA Members were Bill Bien, senior;

Jennie Hildreth, junior; Mary Hale, sophomore; and Brian Miller, freshman. Their awards were sponsored by The Delaware County Bank and presented by Greg Roy of the Galena branch.

The top two awards a chapter can bestow upon members are the Star Greenhand and Star Chapter Farmer Degree. David Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Wilson of Trenton Rd., Galena, was recognized as Star Greenhand. David is employed by DeWitt Dairy Farm in addition to raising his own livestock.

The Star Chapter Farmer Degree, based upon the student's leadership, citizenship and cooperation demonstrated within the chapter, was presented to Todd Stockwell. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Stockwell of Vans Valley Rd., Galena. These awards were also sponsored by The Delaware County Bank.

Big Walnut Assistant Principal Rensi made some closing remarks. Advisor Steve Gratz presented the senior officers with plaques. Installation of officers was held. Gift certificates were presented to BW FFA Advisors Mike Kissinger and Gratz by this year's officer team. The special meeting closed with a patriotic slide show and the salute to the flag.

Big Walnut Students Play With Group at Sunbury Church of Christ

Sunbury Church of Christ will host the Travelers as well as two local students at Sunday's services.

The Travelers, a quartet from West Virginia, and Valerie and Chad Mullins will play at the 9:30 Bible School and 10:30 Worship services.

Valerie, 15, is a sophomore at Big Walnut who has been the feature twirler for the high school band for two years, says her mother, Betty. She also plays trumpet in the band, as well as piano at the Westerville Church of Christ. She plays the steel guitar, and teaches baton.

In addition, Valerie has a 3.7 grade point average, and she has performed competitively for 11 years.

Chad, 11, is a sixth grader who also attends Big Walnut. In addition to playing banjo, as well as acoustical and electric guitars, he teaches banjo at a Columbus guitar center. He has performed at the Capitol Music Hall in Wheeling, WV and has played for Roy Acuff who is called the King of Country Music.

Betty says, Chad enjoys racing dirt bikes and playing basketball. Both youths are children of Larry and Betty Mullins, 5129 Tussie Rd., Westerville, and attend Westerville Church of Christ.

Delaware Mutual Has Successful Year

At the 107th annual meeting of the Delaware County Mutual Insurance Company, Saturday, the members were informed that the company had a successful year in 1984 in all facets of its operation. In his report, Glenn Ballinger, secretary and general manager, reviewed the events of the year and presented graphic illustrations of the company development in Insurance, Life, Policy Count and Cash Assets.

Insurance income increased by 18.8 percent to a new high of $95,200,250, Ballinger said. Policy Count rose 25.3 percent to 1870, and Cash Assets or Policyholder Reserves reached a total of $593,647.00.

Ballinger reported that the company loss and expense ratios, at 93.2 percent, remained stable and much better than the 1984 industry average of 118 percent. He also noted that the cost of insurance with Delaware Mutual remains very competitive as the company has not increased its insurance rates for more than four years.

Delaware County Mutual's growth and development during 1984 was better than industry averages, he said. The majority of insurance companies writing business in Ohio are reporting moderate growth and unusually high loss ratios. The insurance industry is reporting 1984 to be the worst for underwriting losses ever, Ballinger explained.

The competitive outlook for 1985 will be somewhat relaxed, he added, from recent years since most companies will be concentrating on controlling the losses and will be less concerned about growth. The rate cutting phase appears to be over and many insurance companies will be raising their rates to stabilize their financial position and bring their operations to a profitable level, he said.

A special resolution was presented to give recognition to Clyde Cochran, who retired from the company after 25 years as a director and officer of the company.

Delaware County Mutual, organized in 1877, provides low-cost insurance on farms, churches and residential class properties. Although the company's original

News Down Around Harlem Way

by Betty Johnson

This past week a number of Big Walnut students participated in the Delaware County Science Fair. All of the students are to be congratulated for doing the research and making the effort to present their findings. Senior Todd Stockwell's continuing project on steam power netted him 1st place in the county with a perfect 40 points. Vanessa Bishop, a freshman, explored whether listening to music while studying helped the test results (as all the kids will tell you that music does help) which won second place and a trophy. These two students and five others will be eligible to go on to the regional science fair which will be held at Capital University a few weeks from now. Dick Phillips and I went with the Big Walnut contingent.

The Big Walnut F.F.A. held its annual awards banquet Saturday evening. As always the decorations were outstanding and all of the students who worked so hard on contests, projects and reports were duly recognized.

I saw a picture of the house Tom and Katherine Carr are buying in Georgia. The house is large and really neat looking, but I think we should all sign a petition and send it to them to show our outrage. The Carrs definitely are an important part of the Harlem community and we grudgingly allowed them to spend the year traveling. But for them to actually leave us is awfully hard to take. I am not over the shock enough yet to say "Go in peace" and "Godspeed" but maybe that will come.

Katherine's kitchen and life were always open to me in my growing up years, and she and Tom have a special place in my heart. Ruth and Price Baird spent last weekend traveling around the Hocking County cave area and to relative's homes. Ruth, an avid bird watcher said the buzzards were winging around and that they saw meadowlarks. Daffodils were already blooming.

The Delaware county music festival will be held tonight, Thursday, Mar. 14 at Gray

Chapel. Our Big Walnut show choir, Razzmatazz, will sing sort of their debut (at least, the costumes will be making a debut) along with the mixed chorus, etc., and all of the choirs from Delaware Hayes, Olentangy and Buckeye Valley. Last year this event was really great. It showed me what wonderful music departments the other schools have. Big Walnut's music is dreadfully lacking partly because there is no vocal music in the intermediate school. This is a terrible disservice to the young people of our community. There is more to life than Sports! The kids ought to have more opportunity to explore all of the arts. If you weren't aware of it, the band members in seventh and eighth grades don't get any chance at line arts or home arts. These are the people who would probably get the most out of these subjects - Help! ! !

About a million motor vehicles are stolen in this country every year, costing approximately $3.5 billion, according to the National Institute of Justice, an arm of the Justice Department.

The recovery rate has dropped sharply in recent years, leading experts to believe that auto theft is now an adult crime that involves organized gangs of professionals, rather than youthful joyriding.

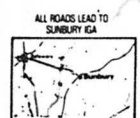

The institute asked for legislation to combat some of the theft schemes, such as selling stolen cars abroad or chopping them up for parts.

Unfortunately, car owners are still making it easy for thieves. Four out of five stolen cars were left unlocked, and one out of five has the key in it.

The basic rules: lock your car and take the key. Park in a well-lighted area. Turn front wheels sharply, so your car is hard to tow. And if you have an anti-theft device or alarm, use it.

Because it's hard to stop a determined car thief, it makes sense to carry auto theft insurance. How's yours? See the insurance experts at

News From Out Condit Way

by Nancy Fuller

With St. Patrick's Day nearing, your Irish eyes may shine if you wear a little bit of green. Hope you enjoy this week!

Get well wishes are sent to Bob Wolfe. He has been ill and is still under doctor's care.

Get well wishes are also extended to Lori Davis. She has been very ill, and under doctor's care. She hopes to return to her school bus driving soon.

Happy 7th birthday to Brad Wolfe, son of Rob and Elaine Wolfe.

Rob and Elaine have returned from their week trip in Japan. They won a trip from the John Deere Company, which they are associated with.

Recent callers of Mr. and Mrs. Russell DeWitt have been Adele Ashley of Columbus, Beverly Boudinot of Johnstown, and Mike and Yelda Wise and son, Grant, of Condit.

My father and his nieces, Marg Crabtree, Loretta Brust, and his sister Emma Bruce, all recently traveled to Waverly to visit their sister-in-law, Ruby Darst and her daughter, Betty Auger, and daughters. Betty had surgery recently and is under treatment for cancer.

The Girl Scouts have received their cookies and are now delivering them.

Glad to hear no one was hurt in the auto accident on Friday when Lucille Wolfe was on her way to work and someone backed out in front of her. She was able to go on to work, after reports were taken.

Big Walnut Is Well-Represented in Delaware County Science Fair

Big Walnut sent 22 students to the Delaware County Science Fair this year, held last Monday evening at Buckeye Valley High School.

Second row has Michelle Whitehead, Sharon Mohler, Kim

Grooms, and Julie Weekly. In the third row are Allison Gilbert, Vanessa Bishop and Andrea Herd. Fourth row has Robbie Barr, James Hill and Kris West. And, across the top are teacher-advisor Richard Phillips, Kathleen Johnson, Susan Ackerman and Alea Arora. Not pictured are Rob Mohler, Cheryl Smithberger, James Rolles, Eric Geisler and Todd Stockwell, and teacher Mrs. Linda Martin.

County Office of Education coordinator Doug Theaker reports 54 students took part in this year's science fair, with Big Walnut taking 13 of 33 excellent, and six of 13 goods, in addition to its three superior ratings.

News at Cheshire-Johnnycake

by Eleanor Griffith

Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Edgar A. Freshwater, 70, of Indianapolis, Ind., who died Monday. He is survived by his wife, Nellie (Dusenbury) Freshwater, sons, Thomas Freshwater, and Thomas, Richard and Harold McGilone, 3 daughters, Margo Freshwater, Martha Collins, Nellie Farley and a sister, Leona Julius. Burial was Thursday, Union Cemetery in Columbus. His family formerly lived on South Old State Road, and then his father, owned the Cheshire Store and drove a hackster wagon, picking up eggs, etc. in exchange for groceries and notions.

The Sewing Circle met at the home of Ella Taylor on Tuesday. They made it a belated birthday party for Mildred Griffith and Margaret Feasel with many gifts and a birthday cake that Chloe Hornish baked.

We are happy to report David Blackston is back in school and doing very well. But he goes back to Riverside for drawing of blood which is sent on to University Hospital for checks. Sherrin, his mother, seems to be improving now. It seems the incision in the donor of the kidney, is larger than in the recipient. What wonderful things can be done.

Jim and Jo Rogers and Christy were Saturday night guests of Larry and Jenny Buell.

Jackie Buell, Joan Rock and three other girls took their truck and went to St. Petersburg, Fl. on their spring break. They are staying at Marvel VanDeMark's (her aunt) and camping in her backyard, which is only two blocks from the beach.

Margaret Strohm was dismissed from Grady Memorial Hospital on Thursday. Freda Kinnerman on Friday. Sue Van Sickle on Sunday. But Sue is very weak and is taking heart medicine. Hope they have the fungus under control in her throat.

Kenneth Main was out to church on Sunday. Malcolm Wilson returned home from St. Ann's Hospital on Wednesday, after being kept for a week, but he must keep his leg elevated for another week, then go back to the doctor again.

Angie and Mike Hale went to Akron to his folks for the weekend and Cathy and Curt Livingston and Justin and Brian were guests of Curt's family for Sunday dinner. Margaret and George Strohm and Mary Green went out to eat.

The J.U.V. Class of Rural Chapel United Methodist Church went bowling on Saturday night. Some of them said they did not do so well the first time around, but did better later and had a good time.

Dave and Annabel Howard and Chloe Hornish, after eating out, went to see Pearl Sherman at home after being in Grant Hospital and having a cornea implant Thursday. They then went to Condit to visit Mildred Grove.

Hazel Sherman was a Tuesday caller of Chloe Hornish.

Saturday all day guests of Dave and Annabel Howard were Dan Cori, little Danny and Bethanne and they visited Lola and Joh Fisher in Delaware.

Donald Ross attended the Gideon Society prayer breakfast on Saturday morning at an inn.

On Saturday afternoon he attended the Delaware County Mutual Insurance annual meeting at the office in Sunbury, with covered dish dinner following.

Next Wednesday, Mar. 20, Rural Chapel United Methodist Church will host the Olentangy Fellowship of Churches Lenten service at 7:30 p.m. Sam Roper will preach on "Gluttony."

Joe Gertie and Ted Bauder had a nice day on Sunday for their 60th wedding anniversary. Many friends and relatives attended. We were unable to go. Happy birthday to Charles Hall on Friday, to Elva Osborne on Saturday and to Ruth Jones on next Monday.

Well, this past week has been very busy. Ed is writing some more poems and he and John have been working on some machinery repair. We are getting another trailing rig-tiller and studying the seed catalog.

Sunday callers after we went to eat with Virginia, John and Beth. Higgs operated a made dress and Virginia did the rest of dinner. Charles and Luia Boushew visited in the afternoon.

Beth had a birthday card from Noroko from Japan and she only worked for the Egyptian Embassy for one month and could not stand the treatment of a woman. So she is doing some transcribing.

We went down to Mildred Griffith's on Sunday afternoon to view the site that the wind took the dome roof off, over onto the barn. It was heavy enough to break roof rafters and made an area about 10x12 feet square. More about this later.

Some wind took eavesputting off from house across the road from the backside. Some is in the road by mailbox—also part of the eaves.

This wind takes your breath away. But the daffodils are up and buds showing.

Newsy Notes From Sparta Area

by Virginia Kinney

Sympathy is extended to the family of Paul Belcher who died Friday, Mar. 8 at the Morrow Manor in Cheshireville. The funeral was Monday at the Sparta U.M.C. with burial in the Bloomfield Cemetery.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Randy Orsborn who are the parents of a son, Aaron Michael, weighing 7 lb. 12 oz. and to Mr. and Mrs. David Lauman who are the parents of a son, Dustin Jean, weighing 8 lb. 1 oz. and Mrs. Reuben Kinney of Hershey, Pa.

Bob and Janice Wise of Texas spent the past week visiting Mrs. Fern McMillan and family. Seth Harris celebrated his 9th birthday on Mar. 6 with a party which included his brother and sisters and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Buck and son, Glen of Fredericktown, were Tuesday evening supper guests of Manzie Buck, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Buck and sons of Gallon were Sunday guests of Mrs. Buck.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robertson of Centerville were Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Robertson. Evelyn Feustel of Gallon was a Tuesday dinner guest in the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Stiltner and family of Tiffin spent the past weekend visiting Kathleen Stiltner. Mr. and Mrs. John Kinney had dinner with Pauline Parker of Columbus and later attended the tournament at the coliseum in Columbus.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Ray were their grandchildren, Danielle and Lincoln Counts of Marion. Linda Counts was a Sunday dinner guest in the home. Danielle and Lincoln returned home with their mother, Mrs. Ray. They attended the memorial service of Luu Lovett in Centerville on Saturday. They also visited other relatives while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Sawyer and daughters of Lexington were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Kinney.

Mr. and Mrs. John White of Marion were Sunday dinner guests of Edith Belcher. Sunday afternoon visitors were Pat Belcher and daughters Edith and Beth and Phillip Belcher, all of Ashley, and friend, Rhonda Hayburn.

Verna Belcher and Hazel Belcher returned home Saturday evening after spending the winter in Tuskey, Ft. Mr. and Mrs. Tim Belcher, who spent the winter in Verna Belcher's home, left for spring training in Phoenix, Ar. After he finishes his training he will be stationed in Huntsville, Al, where he will be playing ball with the Oakland A's, Double A team.

We wish to congratulate the Highland Basketball team on their successful season and want them to know how proud we all are of them. We are also proud of the large following they have.

4H CLUB

Kingston Jr. Farmers

by Beth Houser

Kingston Jr. Farmers 4-H Club met on Feb. 17, to organize for the 1985 year. Awards, certificates and pins were presented. The Club members will be meeting each month at the Kingston Twp. Hall.

Carla Frakes, Darla Frakes, Matt Beach and James Denune received 4 year pins. Charles Denune received a 1 year pin. Jennie Hildreth and Beth Houser received 3 year pins.

Officers elected were: Rob Houser, president; Heidi McDannald, vice president; Jeff Emrick, secretary; James Denune, treasurer; Beth Houser, news reporter; Charles Denune, safety; Don Morgan, energy; Craig Emrick, recreation; Kelly Forman, health.

As a climax to county 4-H Week, the club attended services together at the Sunbury United Methodist Church, home church of the club president.

Advisors for the club are Robert, Joyce and Beth Seitz, Robert G. Houser, Steven Crooks, Burrell and Janet Denune, Robert Emrick, and Joel Forman.

Dairy Co-op Re-Elects Higgins

Roland E. Higgins, County Line Rd., Sunbury, was re-elected second vice-president of Milk Marketing Inc. The organization is the region's prime dairy cooperative which serves 9,000 producer members in an eight-state area.

As a board member Higgins, an active dairy producer from Delaware county, represents dairy producers from District No. 12—those in the Ohio counties of Coshocton, Knox, Licking, Delaware, Franklin and Morrow.

At home, Higgins operates a 435-acre farm and manages an 80-cow milking herd. Higgins has been a member of dairy cooperatives for over 27 years. In addition to farming and MMI activities, the Ohio dairy producer is involved in the Ohio Dairy Farmers Federation (ODFF) and the state and national Mastitis Council. He also serves as secretary-treasurer of Mid East United Dairy Industry Association (UDIA).

Others elected to MMI offices include: Herman M. Brubaker, president; Duncan LeCompte, first vice-president; Ralph Baumgardner, secretary and Carl Johnston, treasurer.

All MMI officers are elected by the Association's board of directors. Officers serve one-year terms and directors serve two-year terms. MMI directors are elected via mail ballots by fellow MMI dairy producer members. Board members must be active dairy farmers in accordance with Association by-laws.

MMI is a 9,000 member dairy farmer owned cooperative encompassing an eight state mid-western area including Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Michigan, New York, Kentucky, Maryland and West Virginia. Last year MMI marketed more than 4.6 billion pounds or 547 million gallons of milk.

This 'n That at Kingston Center

by Joyce Seitz

Kingston Jr. Farmers 4-H Club finished celebrating county 4-H week by attending services on Sunday, Mar. 10 at the Sunbury United Methodist Church, where Rob Houser, 4-H club president, attends.

Orville Tuller called on Mr. and Mrs. Corwin Heimlein Tuesday and found Mabel improved. Mark Day is recovering from a case of mono this past week.

Remember, the R.E.A. meeting will be Mar. 28.

Kingston Grange will meet on Mar. 20, at 8:00 p.m. at the Kingston Twp. Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Crooks and Deb Leaf, Peter and Mary were recent callers of Orville Tuller and the Seitz, along with Mr. and Mrs. Mike Seitz.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hildreth and Jenny attended the Big Walnut FFA Banquet on Saturday evening. Jenny was installed as president of the chapter and also elected FFA Queen.

Congratulations, Jenny!

Mr. and Mrs. John Belli and Joe attended the Big Walnut FFA Banquet on Saturday evening. Joe was installed as vice president. Congratulations to you too, Joe!

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Seitz, Beth and Orville Tuller took to dinner for their birthdays on Saturday evening.

Hope you didn't blow too far with that high wind. We're all looking forward to spring next week!

BW Student Council Reaches Out to Africa

Caroline Kagana, Big Walnut High School Student Council is reaching out to people on an international scale through their support of ROPE. Reaching Out to People Everywhere (ROPE) is an organization that is promoting aid to the African country of Kenya. Through this group, the Big Walnut students are helping Carolyn Kagana, a student in the Mater Girls' School in Meru, Kenya. The students of Big Walnut have donated $100 for her education.

Brother John Kocica, the coordinator of the program in Meru, wrote the students to thank them for their gift, as well as detail the hardships the people of Africa are currently facing. He explained that the villagers of the continent are suffering from drought, food shortages, and medical ills. He indicated that his own area has just experienced an outbreak of cholera.

In a letter to the Big Walnut students, Carolyn shares some of her thoughts as a young woman growing up in Africa. She explains that she is uncertain of

Griffith Tours With Otter Band

Diane Griffith, daughter of Mrs. Willem Griffith, 1922 Birkdale Dr., Columbus, will be one of the nearly 100 members of the Otterbein College Band who will be touring Ohio during the band's 17th Annual Spring Tour, Mar. 20-25.

Griffith who plays the alto sax is a sophomore majoring in Spanish at Otterbein College. She is a 1983 graduate of Big Walnut. The Concert Band is scheduled to make seven appearances throughout Ohio.

The group will perform a varied program of band selections, including Claude Smith's "Canticle: All Creatures of our God and King," and Ralph Vaughan Williams' "Pomp and Circumstance Suite" and "Flourish for Wind Band." In honor of Bach's 300th birthday celebration the band will play "Komm, Susser Tod."

YOUR EYES

By
Dr. Brian A. Dittenber

CONTACT LENS UPDATE

Q. Can the astigmatic patient be fitted successfully with soft contact lenses?

A. Soft contact lenses are now available that have been especially designed to fit over the irregular curvature of the astigmatic eye.

While the inside curve of most contact lenses is spherical, soft contact lenses for the astigmatic patient have been designed so that the lens is flatter in one direction than in the other, to complement the uneven curvature of the astigmatic eye. The lens is also weighted or truncated at the bottom, to maintain alignment with the eye. Whether an individual can wear them must be determined by patient and optometrist.

Q. Why are these soft contact lenses more expensive than regular ones?

A. Soft contact lenses for the astigmatic patient come in a vast number of sizes, shapes and curvatures, which makes them more expensive. It takes more skill and time to fit them properly if the patient is to wear them successfully.

Brought to you as a community service by Dr. Brian A. Dittenber, Optometrist, 2014 South Vernon Street, Sunbury, Ohio, 665-4671.

visiting from her home in Mt. Vernon over the weekend.

Guests this week at our home on Thursday and Friday were Evangelists Jerry Holman and Larry Cook of Chillicothe.

Thought for the Week: "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the spirit of God dwelleth in you?" I Cor. 3:16.
